

2008 Foreign Policy Lecture Series

Thursdays, January 17th to March 6th, 7:30 - 9:00 p.m.

Fellowship Hall
Dunwoody United Methodist Church
1546 Mt. Vernon Road
Atlanta, GA 30338

Increase your understanding of world affairs through this eight week series based on a briefing book published annually by the Foreign Policy Association and coordinated in Georgia by the Georgia Council for International Visitors. Registration includes briefing book: $25.00; (spouse $10.00 if book shared). Contact: Rosalie FitzPatrick, 770-393-9571 or e-mail to rdfitzpatrick@mindspring.com. The series helps participants develop an informed opinion on the role the United States should play in world affairs.

Topics and Speakers

1/17 Iraq: End-game: Dr. Dan Reiter, Professor and Chair of the Department of Political Science, Emory University

1/24 The European Union at 50: Dr. Katja Webber, Co-Director of the European Union Center of the University System of Georgia and Associate Professor, School of International Affairs, Georgia Institute of Technology

1/31 U.S.-China Trade Policy: Penelope Prime, Director of the China Research Center and Professor at the School of Business and Economics, Mercer University

2/7 Talking with our Enemies: Dr. Han S. Park, Professor of International Affairs and Director of the Center of Global Issues, University of Georgia

2/14 U.S. Defense and Security Policy: John Kelly, former Ambassador to Lebanon and Finland, and Assistant Secretary of State for the Near East. Recently President of John Kelly Consulting

2/21 Latin America: Shift to the Left? Dr. Jennifer McCoy, Professor of Political Science at Georgia State University and Director of the Americas Program at The Carter Center.

2/28 Russia: Dr. Jack Moran, Associate Professor of Political Science and International Affairs, Kennesaw State University

3/6 Private Philanthropy: Dr. Kim Reimann, Assistant Professor, Georgia State University, and Deb Neuman, Senior Vice President, CARE

